

Autism at Work

Nurturing your neurodiverse workforce.

The human race is a symphony of neurotypes, each with its own ways of interpreting and responding to the world around us.

By appreciating differences in each others' strengths, skills and needs, we can all perform better – as individuals, as teams and as organisations.

It just makes good sense.

CPD workshops with WayMakers Devon, specialists in autism and anxiety.

Autism at Work 1 60 minutes	Understanding and appreciating autism: Exploring the spectrum: common traits, strengths & needs; misconceptions; masking; the benefits of neurodiversity inclusion, 'reasonable adjustments'.
Autism at Work 2 90 minutes	Practical approaches to autism inclusion: A more in-depth look at autism and neurodiversity at work: misconceptions, strengths, traits & needs; universal design approaches to inclusive recruitment, onboarding.
Autism at Work 3 2½ hours+	Appreciating autism and inclusion at work: A half-day workshop on the breadth of the autistic spectrum; individual profiles & the variety of autistic experiences, strengths, traits and needs; universal design approaches in recruitment, onboarding, retention and career progression.
Autism at Work bespoke	A bespoke workshop written with your industry or context in mind, addressing identified scenarios and/or needs.